Indiana Community Bank Holiday Food Drive

Food Drive to Benefit the Food Bank of Northern Indiana

Elkhart and Goshen, IND. – (Nov. 28, 2011) – Doug Johnston, president and CEO of Indiana Community Bank, is pleased to announce that Indiana Community Bank will be hosting a food drive to benefit the Food Bank of Northern Indiana. Nonperishable food donations will be accepted at both bank locations, located in Elkhart and Goshen, through Dec. 19.

“During this time of year, more than ever, it is important to reach out to our less fortunate friends and neighbors to help them enjoy the holiday season,” said Johnston. “We want to thank everyone who contributes in advance, and wish you all of the best for the holidays, and a happy new year.”

As an added incentive, Indiana Community Bank will contribute an additional dollar for every pound of food donated, up to $150. The Food Bank of Northern Indiana can provide seven meals for every dollar donated.

The most needed items include peanut butter, canned fruits and vegetables, beans, rice and pasta. All nonperishable food items are appreciated; however, the Food Bank of Northern Indiana encourages all donators to check “best before dates” and only donate food that they would eat.

Donations may be dropped off at the following locations on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.:

Elkhart Office – 303 South Third Street

Goshen Office – 511 West Lincoln Avenue
